

Jessica Day

1234 Circle Street | Terre Haute, IN 47809 | 812.123.1452 | jday@sycamores.indstate.edu

Education

Indiana State University, Terre Haute, IN

Anticipated May 2022

Bachelor of Arts, Art History

Minor: Journalism

Study Abroad

Gonzaga University, Florence, Italy

Fall 2021

- Museum Studies and Art History Courses
- Learned to navigate daily interactions, transportation, banking, and shopping using basic Italian language
- Shadowed curator, archivist and docent at the Uffizi Galleries and Palazzo Vecchio Museum

Work Experience

Indiana State University, Terre Haute, IN

Oct. 2020 – Present

Writing Center Tutor

- Provide basic structural help and organization for more than 20 students weekly.
- Assist students in development of theses and ideas.
- Advise students regarding grammar and style problems.

Tennessee Holocaust Commission, Nashville, TN

May 2020 – Aug. 2020

Curatorial Affairs Intern

- Researched and authenticated primary film and photo documents.
- Reviewed and edited curatorial materials for ongoing digital survivor's archive.
- Assisted with digitization and/or storage of film, video, and archival materials.
- Drafted and/or edited wall texts, curatorial essays, and funding proposals for several ongoing curatorial projects.

Community & Collegiate Involvement

Indianapolis Children's Museum, Indianapolis, IN

Oct. 2019 – Present

Volunteer/Seasonal

- Assist, entertain, and educate visitors during educational art workshops at the world's largest children's museum.
- Communicate effectively with museum visitors and answer questions about the museum's exhibit, layout, and history.

Creative Writing Society, Terre Haute, IN

Oct. 2019 – Present

Member

- A student-run organization at ISU that meets weekly to write and discuss creative writing and hosts various literary events on campus and in the community.
- Creative Writing Society edits and produces ISU's award-winning literary and visual arts journal, Allusions, each spring.