

Indiana State Preferred Partners

The Indiana State Preferred Partners Program helps businesses and organizations provide employees with educational and professional development opportunities online and on our campus. Preferred Partners receive exclusive benefits for their employees, including:

- In-state tuition rates for both in-state and out-of-state employees, plus a 15% discount (including the Scott College of Business' AACSB-accredited MBA)
- Waived application fees
- Customizable educational offerings and non-credit courses

Employers have a vested interest in developing their workforce. As an Indiana State Preferred Partner, your employer can help foster your growth and success by leveraging the University's in-demand, industry-based programs, expert faculty, flexible online learning, and world-class campus resources.

'How can I talk to my employer about Indiana State Preferred Partners?'

If you believe your company or organization might benefit from becoming a Preferred Partner, consider approaching your manager or supervisor this way:

"As a committed employee of this company, I'm very interested in continuing to advance my skills and education. I learned about the Preferred Partners Program at Indiana State University, and I think it might be a good way for us to develop and strengthen our team. The University partners with businesses to provide discounted tuition, flexible program offerings, and other benefits. This could also help us retain our best employees while providing attractive incentives for new hires."
