

11th Annual Insurance Public Policy Summit Sponsorship Opportunities

The annual Insurance Public Policy Summit is NFI's centerpiece forum for discussion of regulatory trends and emerging issues. The Summit is conducted each year in Washington, D. C. and brings together key public policymakers, regulators, industry leaders and academicians. The Summit attracts more than 100 leaders including numerous members of Congress, Congressional staff members, representatives of national and international financial services associations, federal departments, and business and thought leaders from across the United States.
