

THE BOTTOM LINE

October/November, 2014

Scott College of Business

Volume 1, Issue 4

Retired professor shares words of wisdom with ISU students

Richard Becker, a retired associate professor of business at Indiana State University, from 1956 until his retirement in 1988, has been very active in the life of the Scott College over the years and a great historian and keeper of college memories and memorabilia.

In fact, he was instrumental in the move to the Statesman Towers location for the college in 1980, much like Associate Dean Bruce McLaren was for the move to Federal Hall in 2012.

What advice does Becker have for all Indiana State students, especially freshmen?

- ⇒ Get involved. It makes all the difference.
- ⇒ Keep up with your assignments - you're on your own now.
- ⇒ Don't go home on weekends. You miss out on student life.
- ⇒ Your parents are making sacrifices for you to be in college. It's your responsibility to do good work.
- ⇒ Join a student group that is composed of your major interests - accounting, finance, insurance, etc. - and a professional student group like Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Kappa Psi. These are the people you may be working with when you leave ISU.
- ⇒ Scholarships and internships abound in the Scott College of Business for students who achieve well academically. Aspire to do well.
- ⇒ Make life-long friends. These are the ones you want to see at homecoming every year.
- ⇒ Be prepared to make your experiences at ISU last for a lifetime.
- ⇒ And take pictures (and label them) to help you recall your great times at ISU!

Upcoming Events

October 24

Scott College Young Board Meeting

November 7

Scott College Insurance Council Mtg.

November 7

Insurance Honors Corps Luncheon

November 14

Networks Mentor Luncheon

November 21

Scott College Dean's Council Meeting

November 24-28

ISU Fall Break

Questions about any of the above events, please visit the Dean's Office, Room 203, or call (812) 237-2000

Get Social @ Scott

Twitter: @isubusiness

Indiana State University Scott College of Business group
Insurance & Risk Management Golf Scramble group
Scott College of Business page

Indiana State University
Scott College of Business group and groups for alumni/friends from every major

isubusiness

GO SYCAMORES!!