

Indiana State University
College of Health and Human Services
School of Nursing
Department of Baccalaureate Nursing Completion

Course Failure Statement
(approved and voted on 2-2-2010)

“Any nursing student who has failed a clinical nursing course must repeat the entire course including all the didactic and all the clinical hours.

“Please note that the California Board of Nursing requires that nursing students repeat all components of a failed course. Should faculty permits students to repeat only a portion of the course (such as only theory or only clinical), Indiana State University will be in violation of California statutes and laws that govern our program’s ability to be present and recognized in California.

“Faculty in the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing Completion clarified and reaffirmed the original policy of the nursing Program in a meeting on February 2, 2010. Any faculty teaching in the distance courses must follow these guidelines.”