

Indiana State University

*2015 Panhellenic
Sorority Recruitment*

Welcome

Potential New Sorority Members,

Congratulations on your admission to Indiana State University or welcome back to campus, and thank you for your interest in our Panhellenic Community! The nine Panhellenic sororities offer so much to their members: fun, friendship, memories, and more. The activities our sororities participate in help their members develop skills and abilities which will last a lifetime while contributing to our campus and community. Sorority members at Indiana State who become involved with their chapters and on campus are taught valuable leadership skills that can benefit them throughout life. We are also proud that our members achieve academically. The Panhellenic GPA is consistently above the undergraduate women's GPA and, in the spring of 2015, the average Panhellenic sorority member had a GPA of 3.10. A recent study at Indiana State University shows the impact of being in a fraternity or sorority. Students involved with Fraternity & Sorority Life are retained from year-one to year-two at a higher rate than students that are not involved in FSL: 21% more likely to remain enrolled at ISU. FSL students also graduate at a higher rate: 19%.

Each of our sororities are special and equally wonderful. The best advice I can give you is to use this time to investigate all of the unique aspects of each group. If you truly want to be a sorority member, you can find something excellent about each group at Indiana State. This week, you should carefully think about each sorority and what it can offer you as well as what you can bring to it. Hopefully, this week you will find your new home away from home. However, one thing that makes Indiana State so great is that being a sorority member is not a prerequisite for involvement. So, if you decide that sorority membership is not for you, there are still many ways to get involved and make friends on campus. Remember that whether you join or not, you are in for a great time.

When you make the decision to join, know that you are joining an award-winning Panhellenic Association. The Indiana State University's Panhellenic Association was recently recognized with the National Panhellenic Conference's Excellence Award for the third year in a row, which was only awarded to the top 3% in the nation.

During and after recruitment, the Fraternity & Sorority Life Staff, Panhellenic Officers, and your Rho Gammas are here to help you. Look for us this week and please let us know if we can assist you in any way. I wish you the best of luck as you begin your journey into sorority life.

Go Trees!

Director of Fraternity & Sorority Life

A message from the Panhellenic President and the Vice President for Recruitment

Dear Potential New Member,

You have just taken the first step in embarking on a journey that could change your life forever. In your time here at Indiana State University we hope that you are able to do three things: grow, unite, and inspire. So what does that mean, and how can the Panhellenic Association help you do that? It is our goal that our Panhellenic sororities comprise the ideal community for all women at Indiana State University.

If you're looking for a way to reach and exceed your full potential you can do that here! A sorority, also referred to as an organization or a chapter, is a place where women can come to gain leadership experiences, academic support, and meaningful, lifelong relationships.

Our sorority members are constantly working to become the best versions of themselves and to grow into women of good character. We believe in setting high goals and helping each other accomplish them. Even though we have nine different sororities on campus, we have common goals that provide the foundation for a close knit unit. With respect and understanding we unite all of our organizations in true sisterhood regardless of our individual membership. We also give our members the opportunity to build partnerships and collaborate with University entities and diverse student organizations. These opportunities provide memorable experiences that you will never forget! We hope these experiences inspire you to reach your full potential!

If you want to be a part of a community that develops strong character and builds a commitment towards a lifetime of involvement and engagement then you've found the right place. By sharing and living our fraternal values we inspire each other and those around us to be better versions ourselves. If you believe in our values and helping us reach our goals then we welcome you to the Indiana State University Panhellenic Association!

Sincerely,
Jordan Gillenwater
Panhellenic President

Dear Potential New Member,

Entering college is a very exciting time, and we are thrilled that you have chosen Indiana State University to be your new home. The next four years, you will find lifelong friendships and make some of the best memories of your life. We are beyond pleased that you have expressed an interest in joining a values-based organization at Indiana State University. If you choose to accept a bid, you will become a member of a community that is committed to excellence in scholarship, leadership, service, and sisterhood. Every woman in the Panhellenic community has found the place that they call home within Indiana State through the recruitment process. It is our hope that you too find that magical chapter in which you feel comfortable and that you can call your new family and home away from home.

The Panhellenic Association at Indiana State University facilitates a fully structured process of recruitment at the beginning of the fall semester. Within this booklet you will find important information to help guide you through the recruitment process. The nine sororities at Indiana State are all very strong and each brings its own unique personality and values. Within our community, every woman can find a fit and a place in which she feels comfortable. The most important tools given to you within this booklet are to keep an open mind and a great attitude. Take this opportunity to find the chapter where you truly fit and can picture yourself calling the women your sisters. Most importantly, take the time to make new friends and HAVE FUN!

The Indiana State Panhellenic Association, along with your Rho Gammas, are here to assist you throughout this process. As women who know how wonderful it feels to have such strong ties, we are here to help you in your transition to college in any way that we can. It is also our hope that it goes smoothly for you. So, get ready to find your home away from home, gain some of the most amazing experiences of your life, make lasting memories, and meet your new sisters!

Sincerely,

What is the Panhellenic Association?

The Panhellenic Association serves as a governing body for the local chapters of the nine international sororities on Indiana State University's campus. The purpose of the Panhellenic Association is to unite sorority women by focusing on common goals and values and creating a network of support for each organization represented.

Circle of Sisterhood

In the fall of 2012 the Indiana State University Panhellenic Association adopted the Circle of Sisterhood as its philanthropy.

What is Circle of Sisterhood?

CIRCLE OF SISTERHOOD is a foundation comprised of women, who have in common a college education. Inspired by Half the Sky, a book that focuses on the injustices women face globally, the Circle of Sisterhood works tirelessly to raise awareness about the issues faced by women and children across the world, and to raise funding to provide education for those that need it most. Founded in 2010, they have made great strides in just a few short years. Today they have given grants that have benefited women and touched lives across many continents and their reach continues to rapidly expand.

Why sorority women?

In the mid 1800s in America, women stood together for the right to go to college, thus beginning a sorority movement. Now, almost 150 years later and more than 5 million strong, we vow to continue our Founders' legacy by standing together again to help girls and women go to school around the world.

Without education, girls and women in the United States and all over the world are unable to reach their full potential. We know that access to quality schooling affords a better life for a woman and that of her family. For too many girls and women around the world, access to quality education is often limited. And education is the answer to many of the global issues related to women – poverty, oppression, misogyny, brutality. Ultimately, more and more educated girls will mean stronger and healthier villages, communities and entire countries.

One person can make a small difference. But as a community of 5 million sorority women, our collective efforts will be transforming for generations to come. As sorority women, let's stand together across affiliation, age, color, and creed to make a difference in the lives of millions of girls and women.

Meet your Rho Gammas

What is a Rho Gamma?

The Panhellenic Association trains a special and talented group of sorority women for the purpose of providing a more enjoyable and less stressful atmosphere during the recruitment process. Rho Gammas, or Recruitment Guides, fully remove themselves from their sororities and do not reveal their affiliation during the recruitment process. This enables them to focus on your individual questions and concerns. The Rho Gammas offer valuable information regarding all aspects of Greek life, academic classes, and other opportunities available to you as a member of Indiana State University and as a member of the Greek community. Potential members should make the most of their relationship with their Rho Gammas. These upperclassmen want to help and are available to you at all times to aid you with any difficulties. It is important to stay in touch with your Rho Gammas, especially if you must miss a party.

Important aspects of Sorority Life

Scholarship

Sorority women exhibit a high level of commitment to and place a special emphasis on academics. Members benefit from programs that provide supervised study periods and peer tutoring. Additionally, they learn time management skills and how to prioritize responsibilities. Each sorority also requires certain minimum GPAs of its members. All of the chapters, as well as Panhellenic, place a great deal of importance on encouraging, developing, maintaining, and rewarding academic success.

Philanthropy and Service

A strong tradition shared by all of Indiana State's sororities is the support of chosen philanthropies and service-oriented projects on the local, national, and international levels. Sorority women on Indiana State's campus volunteer and raise money for worthy causes. Our organizations also support local charities and participate in a wide variety of service projects throughout the year.

Leadership

The Greek community offers a wide variety of opportunities for women to develop leadership skills and find a venue for campus and community involvement in the many organizations in their chapter and on Indiana State's campus outside the Greek community. Sorority women can be found in the Student Government Association, Residential Life staff, The Statesman staff, as well as academic and leadership honorariums, just to name a few.

Sisterhood

The goal of the sorority community is to provide a variety of co-curricular programs to expose members to a wide range of opportunities, including social activities. You will be able to enjoy chapter retreats, sisterhood activities, philanthropic activities, and formals in the company of your new sisters. The development of these relationships can lead to lasting friendships and a lifetime of memories.

Guidelines

Recruitment Attendance

Recruitment, much like sorority membership itself, is a process that requires a reasonable commitment of time and effort. The Panhellenic Association expects that each PNM will attend every round of recruitment and will attend each party that they are invited to by any given chapter. Conflicts will be looked at on a case-by-case basis.

If you are unable to attend an event or wish to withdraw, you must contact your Rho Gamma immediately.

Hazing Policy

Hazing in any form at Indiana State University is absolutely forbidden. Hazing is defined as any activity, which recklessly or intentionally endangers the mental health, physical health, or safety of a student for the purpose of initiation or admission into, or affiliation with, any organization operating subject to the sanction of the public or private school or of any institution of higher education in the state of Indiana.

Alcohol Policy

The possession, use and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages is absolutely prohibited while on chapter premises. During an official fraternity event, or in any situation sponsored or endorsed by the chapter, alcohol consumption must be in compliance with any and all applicable laws of the state, county, city and university. No chapter members/new members, collectively or individually, shall purchase for, serve to or sell alcoholic beverages to anyone under the age of 21 years. All recruitment activities associated with any chapter, without regard to location, will be dry recruitment functions. No alcohol shall be present at any new member program activity of the chapter.

Potential New Member Bill of Rights

As a potential new member, you have the right to:

- Be treated as an individual.
- Be fully informed about the recruitment process.
- Ask questions and receive true and objective answers from Rho Gammas and chapter members.
- Be treated with respect.
- Express opinions to Rho Gammas.
- Have inviolable confidentiality when sharing information with Rho Gammas.
- Make informed decisions without undue pressure from others.
- Be fully informed about the binding agreements implicit in the preference card signing.
- Make one's own choice and decision and accept full responsibility for the result of the decision.
- Have a POSITIVE, SAFE, and ENRICHING recruitment and new member experience.

Mutual Selection

Statement on Legacies

A legacy is defined differently by each inter/national organization. However, in general, legacy is defined as a woman whose sister, mother, or grandmother is a member of a National Panhellenic Conference sorority. Most chapters are asked by their inter/national organization to get to know each of its legacies participating in recruitment. It is important to note a sorority is not obligated to offer a bid to a legacy, and a potential new member is not obligated by anyone to commit to a chapter where she is a legacy. Please remember that the ultimate decision to join a chapter rests with the potential new member. The potential new member should not make a decision or be under pressure based on her legacy affiliation. The potential new member should make a choice based on where she is most comfortable, not on the experience of another individual.

Mutual Selection Process

Recruitment is a mutual selection process that balances the preferences of each potential new member with those of the existing sorority chapters. The Panhellenic Association strives to allow every young woman an opportunity to find a sorority that best suits her personality, interests and future goals while providing an organized and unbiased membership selection process for the chapters. Invitations are only guaranteed to potential new members for the first round. There is no guarantee that a PNM will be invited to attend the second, third, or fourth event rounds. Invitations to subsequent rounds are made based on the selections of the chapters and the preferences of the potential new members. PNM schedules will be maximized so that they are able to meet with as many chapters as possible during their recruitment experience. There is no guarantee that a woman will receive a bid to any sorority. However, if a potential new member progresses through the week and attends all the events she is invited to during the fourth event round and lists each of those chapters on her preference sheet that night, it is very likely that she will receive a bid to one of those chapters. There is no specific formula that explains why a woman is released from a particular chapter, or why a woman prefers one chapter to another. The Panhellenic Association makes every effort to allow each potential new member the best opportunity to join the sorority of her choice, but there are no guarantees a young woman will be placed within that specific sorority. It is important to keep an open mind during recruitment week and to use the time to meet and make new friends!

Suggestions

You are expected to attend all classes and complete assignments during the week of recruitment. If you need to miss a round because of class, inform your Rho Gamma.

You will want to carry a purse or a tote bag to hold your essentials. A Rho Gamma will watch these for you during recruitment parties. However, do not carry any valuables with you since Panhellenic will not be responsible for them if lost.

Bring a pen and be sure to take notes! This will be helpful when you are making decisions about accepting invites.

Do not chew gum during parties. It can be distracting to the person who is talking to you.

Be polite. If you are not interested, you should still be positive and thank your hostess.

Carry an umbrella. The weather is often unpredictable, and it can help keep you out of the rain. You will have to walk outside to get to each of your parties.

Do not wear heavy fragrance. It can be powerful in a crowded room.

Avoid high heels. You will be doing a lot of standing and walking, so you should bring comfortable shoes to wear between parties or a backup pair of shoes in case of blisters.

Look at each sorority as a whole. Do not judge a chapter by the one member who was your hostess.

Ask questions. It not only helps the conversation, but it is a sign of your interest.

Recruitment is mutual choosing. Part of it is your choice and part is the choices of the sororities.

Sorority members are just as nervous and anxious as you, if not more so.

Do not interpret any remark made at a party as assurance of an invitation back or a bid. A member has no way of knowing these things.

If you go to the wrong party by mistake, or if you have any problems at all, find a Rho Gamma immediately. Don't get upset. Rho Gammas can help with lots of things, and sororities understand.

All sorority members have been through recruitment themselves. Don't be intimidated.

Get plenty of sleep. You have all year to stay up late!

Do not discuss your feelings about a sorority or a certain party when you leave the party. Wait until you are in the privacy of your room.

Be mature and realistic in your decision-making about which members you feel most comfortable with. Don't be influenced by others' opinions.

Round One

What to Expect

There are nine sororities participating in round 1. The purpose of this round is to introduce you to our Greek community. You will visit each sorority and get to know a little about the chapter. One woman will meet you at the door, and act as your hostess while you are visiting her chapter. You may be introduced to multiple women in each chapter. During this round, you will visit each sorority for fifteen minutes. You may feel a little overwhelmed because the pace of this day is so fast. This round is just meant to give you and the chapter an opportunity to get to know a little about each other.

What to Talk About

Don't worry if you don't have time for in-depth conversations. Don't be afraid to ask your hostess questions about her sorority or sorority life in general. Be sure to tell her about yourself as well. Each sorority wants to get to know as much about you as possible. Also, be careful of first impressions, they can be misleading. Remember that the parties are short, so if you feel you need another look to decide, take it. Most importantly, have fun and be yourself. Remember, the sororities want you to like them as much as you want them to like you!

Following Round 1

Answer the following questions.

At which sororities did you feel the most comfortable? Why?

At which sororities did you get to discuss things that are most important to you?

List some qualities about yourself that would be an asset to a sorority.

For a minute, assume that you don't receive an invitation from your favorite chapters. We'd like you to focus on the three sororities that currently give you the least positive feelings. List those on a separate sheet of paper. Next to each one, write down the people there who you liked, the attitudes they had, and the ways the chapter was able to make a positive impression on you.

It is possible that you will not receive every invitation you desire. What will you do if this happens? You might want to discuss this possibility with your Rho Gamma.

Make a list of questions that you still have related to sorority membership. Plan to ask those at your parties tomorrow.

Rounds Two & Three

What to Expect

Typically, each of these rounds is about either sisterhood or philanthropy. You will partake in activities and conversation that will help you to understand and appreciate each chapter's philanthropic contributions locally and nationwide. During these rounds, you will also be given the opportunity to look closer at each chapter's personality and to become better acquainted with members of the chapters. Conversations will allow you to learn more about the chapter women and programs that can enhance your Indiana State experience.

What to Talk About

During these two rounds, communication is key. Conversation is longer, more meaningful, and more in-depth. You should be looking for certain attributes you want in your sorority and sorority sisters. Scholarship, sincerity, friendliness, and adaptability are all strong attributes that are emphasized during this round. Listen carefully to decide if the achievements and activities they speak about are also important aspects of your college goals. Ask the hostess about her sorority. It is important to also keep your values in mind during these rounds.

Following Round 2

Answer the following questions.

Make a list of the qualities you admire in your closest friends. Now, make a list of the sororities you visited today. Decide whether you feel each chapter you attended exhibits those qualities. Which ones stand out?

For a minute, let's assume that you don't receive an invitation from your favorite chapters. We'd like you to focus on the three sororities that currently give you the least positive feelings. List them on a separate sheet of paper. Also, make a list of the good things you were able to notice about the sorority as well as the people you liked there.

Following Round 3

Answer the following questions.

List the skills and abilities you have that you would like to share with a sorority. In which chapters do you think these could be utilized?

For a minute, let's assume you don't receive an invitation from your favorite chapters. We'd like you to list all chapters that you visited tonight. Make a list of the ways that these sororities could contribute to your college experience. Make another of the talents you have that you could use to contribute to the sorority.

Preparing for Preference

List each of the chapters you will visit for preference. Read each statement below as it relates to each. Respond yes, no, or unsure.

- I would be happy to participate in this chapter's philanthropy because it is interesting to me.
- I would be happy to participate in this chapter's activities on campus.
- This sorority seems open to listening to the ideas of its members and willing to discuss important issues.
- This sorority has members that share my recreational and leisure activities.
- This sorority has members with the same academic interests as me and would help me keep up with my studies.
- The amount of time that I would be required to spend participating in chapter activities is reasonable.
- This sorority has an environment that I believe will encourage me to develop my talents as well as my new skills.
- I feel comfortable talking with the members of this sorority about things that are important to me.
- This sorority seems like a group that would support me as I progress through college.
- I can be myself when I am with the members of this sorority.
- The members of this sorority seem to get along well, and I think I would fit in well there.
- Being a member of this sorority can positively contribute to my college experience.
- I have qualities that would make me an asset to this sorority.
- I share the same values as this sorority.

In general, if your feelings about at least some aspects of the chapter are somewhat negative, this may cause you not to be truly happy as a member there. If you think you want to talk about this with someone, please grab your Rho Gamma or a PA Executive Board member to discuss your concerns. If you chose "not sure" as an answer for any sorority, these are things you still need more information on. Use these questions as a guide for some questions to ask as you attend the preference party of that sorority.

What to Expect

Preference is the most serious day of recruitment. You may visit 2 sororities on this night. This round can be the most emotional step of the sorority recruitment process because it is after preferences that you must decide which sorority you would like to be a part of. The parties are usually serious and subdued. During preferences, think back on the previous rounds and recall what you liked best about each sorority. This will help you form a complete impression of the sororities, and help you to decide where you feel most comfortable.

What to Talk About

Your hostess may talk privately with you about your feelings towards the sorority and answer any final questions you may have. During this time you should listen carefully to what the sorority women tell you about the ideals of sisterhood. Listen to what they say. These women are revealing to you the character of their sorority. These women want you to know what their sorority means to them and what it could mean to you.

Preference

After preference round, you will not have a chance to consult with anyone before making your final preferences. Because you cannot speak with your Rho Gamma, please consider the following questions to help you determine your choices .

	Preference 1	Preference 2
Are the members interested in the same things as I am?
Are the financial requirements within my means?
Do I like the philanthropy?
Would I be happy working for the philanthropy?
Does the chapter seem to be open to new ideas and care about individual members?
Is there a commitment to academic excellence?
Can they help me with my studies?
Do the values align with mine?
Does the chapter provide an environment that will encourage me to grow, learn new skills, and develop as an educated woman?
Are there members with whom I can share things that are important to me?
Do I feel at home with this group of women?
Do I see myself as a member of this chapter?
Would I be happy to be a lifetime member of this organization?
