

Student Learning Outcomes Library

Office of Assessment & Accreditation

Indiana State University

BS Operations & Supply Chain Management

Spring 2020

Top of Form

Bottom of Form

Outcome	Related Foundational Studies or Graduate Goal
Supply Chains—Students will develop a framework to design and analyze global supply chains that meet or exceed customer quality, deliver, cost and service requirements
1.1 Develop a supply chain framework: Essay exam question or project
Business Analytics—Students will apply the processes and tools of business analytics to a wide range of problems to support informed decision making
2.1 Apply problem solving methods: Students will be evaluated on their ability to solve a realistic case study problem	Foundational Studies 2: Critically evaluate the ideas of others.
Information Flow—Given a specific customer need, interpret the critical importance of information flow in a global supply chain and its impact on operations, logistics, and supply chain management
3.1 Evaluate Importance of Information Flow Case study, assignment or project in OSCM 490
Direct Experience—Through direct experience in an organization, apply the concepts and methods of Operations and Supply Chain Management to a significant decision facing the organization

4.1 Apply Methods in a Real Organization; Discipline Knowledge: Internship or OSCM 445/445EL
4.2 Apply Methods in a Real Organization; Professional Skills: Supervisor or industry contact evaluation of student	