Mission Statement

The mission of the School of Music at Indiana State University is to prepare students for careers and continued study in music education, music business, performance, and music as a liberal art. Recognized for its long history of training music educators and members of the music business community, the school offers a range of undergraduate and graduate degrees in a personalized environment. We provide experiential learning opportunities, develop life-long learning skills, and foster cultural engagement and international exchange. The school promotes awareness and appreciation of the musical arts through courses for all university students and serves as a cultural resource for the university, local community, and the state through outreach, special events, and public performances.

   Findings for Juries

   Summary of Findings: 14 graduate music majors (7 in education concentration) completed a single juried performance in Spring, 2013. Of those 14 (100% of the class) all were found to have met expectations based on a faculty group assessment using rubrics specific to each performance medium.

   100% of enrolled students in graduate performance study met expectations.
   Results: Target Achievement: Met
   Recommendations: Based on the high success rate no recommendations for changes in instruction are being recommended. However, the process of assessing could be improved by having a core portion of the rubric for all performance areas be consistent. Focus on technique and musicality that are in common to all performance areas could be assessed by a single instrument that would better drive decisions about possible instruction changes. Also, we recommend that the time of data collection for this portion of the graduate assessment be delayed a semester. It is difficult to report and subsequently discuss results that happen during test week in the spring before the following fall semester.

It is difficult to report and subsequently discuss results that happen during test week in the spring before the following fall semester.

Reflections/Notes: In a communication between all performance faculty members the above recommendations were approved. Specifically, the performance faculty recommends creation of a rubric that has a section that is consistent across performance areas. Also recommended is that the graduate assessment plan be changed to delay this assessment from the spring to the fall in the future.

Master of Music with Conducting Concentration
1. Demonstrate advanced music skills

Master’s students will demonstrate advanced musical skills through preparation, performance, and informed interpretation as a soloist on their principal instruments and as a member of a chamber and/or large ensemble.

Measure: Live performance of jury - MUS 676
Direct - Other

Details/Description: Multi-rater evaluation of live performance of jury (MUS 676)

Target:

Implementation Plan (timeline): Every fall and spring semester

Responsible Individual(s): School of Music Director

Findings for Live performance of jury - MUS 676

No Findings Added

2. Synthesize an advanced understanding of historical contexts and theoretical structures of musical works and styles

Master’s students will synthesize an advanced understanding of historical contexts and theoretical structures of musical works and styles through analysis, research and writing.

Measure: Compositions, Analyses, Research & Writing
Direct - Student Artifact

Details/Description: Compositions, Analyses, Research & Writing; One of MUS 539 and one of MUS 543, 545, 546 or 549

Target:

Implementation Plan (timeline): Every fall and spring semester

Responsible Individual(s): School of Music Director

Findings for Compositions, Analyses, Research & Writing

Summary of Findings: With regard to individual artifacts, one scored in the upper range of milestone achievement (3.49-2.50) to meet expectations; however, it is important to note that the score barely falls within the range for meeting expectations for the learning outcome. The remaining artifact scored the lower range of milestone achievement (2.49-0.00), indicating a failure to meet expectations. Concerning the sample as a whole, the average score for artifacts was 2.39, failing to meet expectations for graduate student performance with regard to synthesizing an advanced understanding of historical contexts and theoretical structures of musical works and styles through analysis, research and writing.

Results: Target Achievement: Not Met

Recommendations:

Reflections/Notes:

These Findings are associated with the following Actions:

writing sample requirement
(Action Plan; 2014-2015 Assessment Cycle)

3. Demonstrate an understanding of research methods

Master’s students will demonstrate an understanding of research methods by conducting bibliographic research, and demonstrating comprehension of qualitative and quantitative concepts.

Measure: Research & Writing
Direct - Student Artifact

Details/Description: Assessed in MUS 609

Target:

Implementation Plan (timeline): 2014-2015 academic year and every two years thereafter

Responsible Individual(s): School of Music Director

Findings for Research & Writing
Summary of Findings: With regard to individual artifacts, one scored in the upper range of milestone achievement (3.49-2.50) to meet expectations; however, it is important to note that the score barely falls within the range for meeting expectations for the learning outcome. The remaining two artifacts scored in the lower range of milestone achievement (2.49-0.00), indicating a failure to meet expectations. As a group, the average score for artifacts was 2.00, failing to meet expectations for graduate student performance in the area of research methods, bibliographic research, and qualitative and quantitative concepts.

Action Plan

Actions

Master of Music with Conducting Concentration

2. Synthesize an advanced understanding of historical contexts and theoretical structures of musical works and styles

Master’s students will synthesize an advanced understanding of historical contexts and theoretical structures of musical works and styles through analysis, research and writing.

Action: writing sample requirement

This Action is associated with the following Findings

Findings for Compositions, Analyses, Research & Writing
(Assessment Plan and Assessment Findings; 2014-2015 Assessment Cycle)

Summary of Findings: With regard to individual artifacts, one scored in the upper range of milestone achievement (3.49-2.50) to meet expectations; however, it is important to note that the score barely falls within the range for meeting expectations for the learning outcome. The remaining artifact scored the lower range of milestone achievement (2.49-0.00), indicating a failure to meet expectations. Concerning the sample as a whole, the average score for artifacts was 2.39, failing to meet expectations for graduate student performance with regard to synthesizing an advanced understanding of historical contexts and theoretical structures of musical works and styles through analysis, research and writing.

Action Details: Currently, most graduate students are admitted to programs in the School of Music on the basis of demonstrated skill in the areas of performance and conducting. Only students admitted to the concentration in music education are required to submit a writing sample as part of their application materials, which has not been consistently enforced in past semesters. In order to better understand graduate students’ abilities in the area of research, analysis, and writing, the School of Music will implement a requirement for all students to submit a writing sample along with a personal statement when applying to our programs. In doing so, School of Music faculty can better determine students’ potential for success in academic courses as well as anticipate challenges faced by individual students before they enroll in courses that involve high-stakes research, analysis, and writing assignments.

Implementation Plan (timeline): Spring 2016

Key/Responsible Personnel: B. Simms, Graduate Committee, and P. Bro

Measures: Application materials

Resource Allocations: None

Priority: High

3. Demonstrate an understanding of research methods

Master’s students will demonstrate an understanding of research methods by conducting bibliographic research, and demonstrating comprehension of qualitative and quantitative concepts.

Assessment Plan: Master of Music with Music Performance Concentration

Mission Statement: The mission of the School of Music at Indiana State University is to prepare students for careers and continued study in music education, music business, performance, and music as a liberal art. Recognized for its long history of training music educators and members of the music business community, the department offers a range of undergraduate and graduate degrees in a personalized environment. We provide experiential learning opportunities, develop life-long learning skills, and foster cultural engagement and international exchange. The department promotes awareness and appreciation of the musical arts through courses for all university students and serves as a cultural resource for the university, local community, and state through outreach, special events, and public performances.

Communication of Outcomes: All Assessment plans will be posted on the School of Music Website.
