

F-1 Economic Hardship Work Authorization

F-1 students who find themselves faced with severe, unforeseen economic hardship and have been unable to find an on-campus job sufficient to meet their financial needs may apply to the US Citizenship and Immigration Service (USCIS) for permission to accept off-campus employment. Examples of such situations include loss of financial aid or employment through no fault on the part of the student, severe fluctuations in the value of currency from his/her home country, unexpected changes in financial condition of the student's source of support, medical bills, or other considerable unexpected expenses.

Employment authorization based on economic hardship is granted for one year and may be renewed for subsequent years. The authorization can be used for full-time summer work or part-time work (not more than 20 hours per week) during the academic year. Work accepted under this authorization may be unrelated to a student's major area of study. Applications are processed through the USCIS Service Center in Lincoln, Nebraska and may take 6-8 weeks to process. You cannot begin working until you have received authorization from USCIS.

Students may wish to discuss their situation with a Student Advisor prior to making the decision to apply for this type of employment authorization.
