OLLI at Indiana State University

Mission Statement
The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute is a forum for adults of all academic and economic backgrounds to learn about a wide variety of subjects they find interesting and engaging. It is made possible by the substantial support of the Bernard Osher Foundation and Indiana State University that the Institute can offer these unique learning opportunities to residents of the Wabash Valley.

Who are OLLI at ISU Members?
Our members come from many different backgrounds with one common purpose: they all want to learn. What each member wants to learn differs, of course, which is why OLLI offers an enormous range of topics. But all of the learning takes place in a setting that has no pressure. That is, without tests, grades, and prerequisites. Also, there is no required homework and every aspect of participation is voluntary! In addition, wherever members get together—in classes, for special events, or at weekly presentations—they can meet new people, enjoy casual conversations, and share their experiences and opinions.

Membership
Best of all, as one member said, “The price is right!” Membership is $40 for one year (September through August) or $20 per semester: Fall (Sept. – Dec.), Winter (Jan. – April), Summer (May – August). Included with OLLI membership are all of the presentations and one course each semester. The cost of special events and additional courses varies. (See “Membership Benefits” for more details)

Membership Benefits
When you join OLLI, you
• Become a part of a vibrant community of engaged and engaging members.
• Can attend weekly, one-hour presentations on a wide range of topics from serious to the humorous and from the vital to the frivolous. (All of these presentations are included with membership.)
• Are able to participate in local and regional day trips that explore our area’s history and natural beauty. In addition, members receive early notice of longer trips in the United States and abroad. (These trips usually have additional fees.)
• Receive weekly e-mail announcements and reminders about OLLI programs as well as community events and ISU programs.
• Have access to non-credit courses short courses taught by community experts as well as faculty from Indiana State, Rose-Hulman and St. Mary-of-the-Woods. Members’ Views of OLLI

Bob and I thoroughly enjoyed Bruce McLaren’s How Do I Train My Apple - Making the Most of Your iPhone/iPad class this spring. We both have fairly new phones, and Bruce helped us a lot!

- Mary McLaughlin

My wife and I are not disappointed after rejoining OLLI after an absence of a few years to care for our parents. We enjoyed the nonstop entertainment on the Starved Rock bus trip and the next day cruise on the Spirit of Peoria paddle wheeler down the Illinois river. What a fantastic two days!

- Bob and Dorene Hojnicki

I have always enjoyed the variety of programs offered by OLLI but best of all is we get to dine at the most interesting and best restaurants.

- Annie Whitman

I am so lucky that OLLI decided to feature this Sicilian author with his famous detective character, Inspector Montalbano. Now I am reading this detective collection and we have acquired the DVD series.

- Jennie LaRoche

I have enjoyed this entire year of OLLI, especially the discussion of Devil and the White City and trip to Chicago, and the recent discussions on Wicked Terre Haute. I like the fact that there is a large variety of topics and activities so there is something of interest for everyone. I love learning about new things. Thank you so much.

- Cheryl Burgess

I retired almost 10 years ago, and during that time OLLI has become an extremely important organization in our lives. Every week there are fascinating presentations; there are always classes going on, dinners, and trips, and in the midst of all the wonderful events there are all kinds of new friends we treasure. It would be really difficult to name just one or two favorite events in the past year, because if we are in town we are ALWAYS there. So if you are looking for stimulating presentations, fun dinners and events, classes that make you think, and friends that enlarge your hearts - come to OLLI, and discover just how wonderful a place can be.

Why Donate to OLLI

Why OLLI Members Give

“Donating to OLLI is like making a sound investment in my own future, as well as a way of saying, ‘thank you’ for the wide variety of experiences OLLI continually offers. OLLI has become an amazing part of my life.” — Judy H.

“OLLI is a shining light in my life. Attend just one class and you’ll see what I mean. I give because OLLI has earned my support many times over.”—Richard W.

The OLLI Annual Fund – Why Is It Needed?
Membership fees cover only a portion of the amount OLLI needs to operate. Your contribution means that yearly membership dues can be kept low as we continue to bring you the high-quality educational program you’ve come to expect from OLLI. The annual fund accounts for 7% of the overall budget, and plays an important role in keeping the budget in balance. In addition, it meets a key requirement of our endowment from the Bernard Osher Foundation that we engage in fundraising efforts each year.

The Perfect Time to Give
Our heartfelt thanks to all of you who have given so generously in response to our 2018-2019 fundraising efforts. For those still considering a gift, we would like to challenge you to make the same investment in our institute that the Osher Foundation and other OLLI members have done by asking you to contribute to the institute that has become a large part of the lives of individuals in our community. Our goal is to raise $20,000 by August 1, 2020 with fifty percent of our membership contributing. We raised $12,073 in 2018-2019 with thirty percent of the membership contributing.

With Docent from Smithsonian Art Museum

Date: Tuesdays, September 10, 17, & 24, 2019
Time: 3 - 4 PM
Place: ISU, University Hall Room 008
Cost: $15

OLLI members will explore the historical context of the creation of our nation through artworks from the Smithsonian American Art Museum. This class will start with the colonial time period and end with westward expansion. Our instructor for this class will be a docent from the Smithsonian American Art Museum that will video conference in from Washington, D.C..

Young America: Made as Americans transformed themselves from colonists to citizens of a new nation, early American art tells the story of national ambitions, territorial expansion, and the beginnings of industry.

The Civil War: The advent of photography changed American’s outlook on the Civil War, while Reconstruction-era paintings and sculpture give us insight into the nation after the war.

Lure of the West: As both a physical space and an idealized place, the American West retains a powerful allure in popular culture.
The Great Gatsby:
Exploring the Cultural Contexts

Time: 2 - 3:30 PM

F. Scott Fitzgerald’s The Great Gatsby is a novel of its time. Written in an elegant but accessible style, the story of Jay Gatsby and Daisy Buchanan’s fated romance develops in a Jazz Age culture of privilege, aspiration, and indulgence. This class will explore the cultural details implicit in the text—references to specific people, historical details, specific locales, and cultural trends—and discuss the ways in which these context clues enrich our understanding of Fitzgerald’s most famous novel.

Session 1, chapters 1-3; Session 2, chapters 4-6; Session 3, chapters 7-9.

The authorized text (Scribner Paperback Fiction, ISBN 0-684-80152-3) is readily available at bookstores and on-line, but any edition will work.

The Mysteries and the Magic of Easter Island

With Elmer Guerri, Anthropology Enthusiast

Date: Mondays, October 7, 14, 21, & 28, 2019
Time: 10 AM - 12:30 PM
Place: Landsbaum Center, 1433 N. 6 1/2 Street, Terre Haute
Cost: $20 (Books are not included in price but a synopses for each book will be provided.)

There is likely no place on earth to which more mysteries have been attributed than the sixty-four square miles of insular volcanic isolated Pacific landscape known by many names, including Te-Pito-O-Te-Henua (the Navel of the World), Rapa Nui and, of course, Easter Island. Norwegian anthropologist-explorer Thor Heyerdahl’s 1947 wooden raft expedition from Callao, Peru, opened the door to seemingly endless conjecture and controversy that has occupied the curious public and scientists alike. Real-time film footage of the 1947 Kon-Tiki raft voyage will provide insight into how significant that event was in opening eyes to Easter Island as discussed in popular books “AKU-AKU” and “KON-TIKI”.

The course will examine lessons learned from the archaeological record. Cultural materials and artifacts that were a part of the indigenous life-ways and culture of Easter Island will be examined. Course participants will be asked to read Thor Heyerdahl’s 1950 book KON-TIKI and Father Sebastian Englert’s 1970 book Island at The Center of the World. Synopses for each book will be provided.

This course may change much of what participants have long believed about Easter Island. Evidence provided by new scientific technologies will be closely examined, and that evidence may shed light upon some of the long-held mysteries. Those same technologies may raise more mysteries for the future. Close examination of what has long been believed to have been “an island paradise” that turned into “a hell on earth” may offer important clues about the future of human life on earth.

Continue to learn about Easter Island with The Elmer and Deanna Guerri Annual Anthropology Lecture Series Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology under Other Presentations on page 41.

Join us for discussions of scenes from American life as poets see them. Most of the poems will be selected from Garrison Keillor’s Writer’s Almanac and Ted Kooser’s American Life in Poetry. Ted Kooser, former U.S. Poet Laureate, selects poems “to create a vigorous presence for poetry in our culture.” These poems match his own style of making common life uncommonly beautiful. Class members are welcome to share their own favorite poems as well. If you are unaccustomed to reading or talking about poetry, please join our circle of those who enjoy a laugh or even a tear based on where Americans live and what they do.

It’s time for the Knotting Museum to unveil its newest exhibit, The Tomb of Aepep and His Mistress, and several local celebrities have been invited to the big exhibition. Much to the pleasure of museum curator Darlene Kisser, the event seems to be running smoothly. Smoothly, that is, until the egotistical film starlet, Elizabeth Rose, and the washed-up singer, Joy Mond, are both murdered and panic ensues. Someone needs to figure out whodunit before another murder occurs, and it doesn’t take long for each of the guests to begin playing detective. The only problem is that one of these detectives is actually the murderer. Is it the cold cuts loving man from New York? His photo-snapping wife? One of the bratty teenage twin sisters? The love struck magician? The forgetful chemist? The thief or her clumsy companion? When the museum’s mummified exhibit comes to life, the audience has the chance to assist the guests in determining who murdered Elizabeth and Joy.

In Giacomo Puccini’s opera Turandot, the title character is a legendary princess — whose face chopped off a thousand heads! Turandot is based on an ancient fable, originating in Persia and set in China. It tells of a princess so desirable that men came by the hundreds, from all over the world, and queued up to vie for her love. There was a catch, of course. To have any shot at all with Turandot, a suitor first had to answer three vexing riddles — and anyone who failed would end up with his head on a stake, as a warning to all the suitors still standing in line. The opera tells us about the one fellow who did solve the riddles. But winning the heart of Turandot turns out to take more than just three clever answers. In telling the colorful story, Puccini created an opera that’s simultaneously extravagant, exotic, musically powerful and dramatically “over the top.” That is, it’s got everything an operatic potboiler could possibly want, and then a little bit more!

Attend a presentation about the opera in advance of the performance. See Other Presentation on page 40 for details.

Remember 1964 when Bob Dylan’s, The Times They Are A Changin’, first entered the public consciousness? For the next decade that song was an anthem for many people who wanted to transform the world. However, none of them - not one - had any idea just how many dramatic and drastic changes would impact the lives of everyone in the next half-century.

Dorothy, Michelle, and Sherry will discuss a few of the many changes that they have witnessed and encourage the audience to think about the changes they have seen - for better and for worse.

“Those organisms that cannot change also cannot survive in the long run. This is true on a social/political scale, as well as the evolutionary scale. Mankind has evolved various methods to cope and to rationalize our existence. These include our systems of government and our philosophies about life, including religion.” - Bruce Muench, 92-year-old biologist and Dorothy Jerse’s high school classmate

Sexual health is an integral part of our lives but often times is not discussed as we age. It is usually assumed that older adults do not have sexual desires, and often find it difficult to discuss this topic with their doctor. Due to these assumptions, many times physicians don’t discuss sexual health with their older patients. The aim of this discussion is to explain why having these discussions with your doctor are so important. Breaking the barriers and taboos on sexual health education regarding older adults is important. By having better dialogue with your doctor, it can aid in diagnostics of other issues and can improve your knowledge of issues that face everyone’s sexual health as they age.

According to Timothy Snyder of Yale University, “Whether they admit it or not, historians reason with what-ifs. Their value is that they remind us of what we might otherwise take for granted.”

This lecture will discuss some of the “what-ifs” of World War Two. If the war, for example, had been purely a military rather than a political contest, might the Germans have won in Europe? Are there certain scenarios in which Germany and Japan might have won battles or even the war? Audience participation is encouraged.

ISU Speaker Series:
John Douglas

Date: Monday, September 16, 2019
Time: 7 - 8:30 PM
Place: ISU, Tilson Music Hall
701 North 7th Street, Terre Haute
Cost: Free

As an innovator at the FBI in the late 1970s, John Douglas developed new investigative techniques for hunting serial killers, sex offenders, and other violent offenders. Advancing the use in investigations of the procedure known as criminal profiling, Douglas became widely recognized as its top authority. A mix of psychology, pattern recognition, and inductive/deductive reasoning, criminal profiling allows investigators to make educated guesses about suspects—sometimes accurately predicting their age, background, personality, and other identifying characteristics from the barest of clues. While leading the FBI’s Investigate Support Unit, Douglas used profiling in numerous prominent cases.

In his latest book, The Killer Across The Table: Unlocking the Secrets of Serial Killers and Predators with the FBI's Original Mindhunter, Douglas delves deep into the lives and crimes of four of the most disturbing and complex predatory killers, offering never-before-revealed details about his profiling process, and divulging the strategies used to crack some of America’s most challenging cases.

Hunt, one of the world’s foremost experts on the human and environmental histories of the Pacific Islands, will discuss new discoveries that support the hypothesis of Hunt and Lipo that Easter Islanders were “remarkably inventive environmental stewards, devising ingenious methods to enhance the island’s agricultural society.”

The 2011 book The Statues That Walked by Hunt and Lipo goes a long way toward “unraveling the mystery of Easter Island.” Their research became the cover story for the July 2012 National Geographic Magazine and has been featured in NOVA, National Geographic and PBS television documentaries.
