Dear Fellow Sycamores:

The return of our Indiana State Homecoming after a two-year hiatus brought all of us a fun and safe celebration, and I would like to thank everyone involved for all your hard work. It was wonderful to see so many students, alumni, faculty, staff, and the community at large enjoying an array of events which included both cherished traditions such as the Trike Race and the Blue and White Parade and new additions including the College Open Houses on campus. Capping it off was a great victory by our football team.

We are so grateful to the Homecoming Committee, Facilities Management, grounds personnel, Student Affairs, the Alumni Association, our college deans, and all of the students, faculty, staff, and alumni. Your efforts, smiles, and greetings during this Homecoming demonstrate the strong Sycamore spirit for which we are known. Thank you for your role in making this Homecoming a success for our university and our local community.

Sincerely,

Deborah J. Curtis, Ph.D.
President
