

ISU College of Technology Advisory Boards

Advisory boards in the College of Technology are comprised of professionals in the appropriate fields who work in collaboration with our academic departments, programs, and administration to enhance the relevancy and quality of programs. Many advisory board members are alumni who are eager to share their experience and knowledge to improve the curriculum and connect with new graduates. Advisory boards support our accountability by providing guidance and feedback and serving as partners in continuous improvement. For a listing of current advisory board members, click on the department/program listed below.
